

SOLACRYL

Benefits

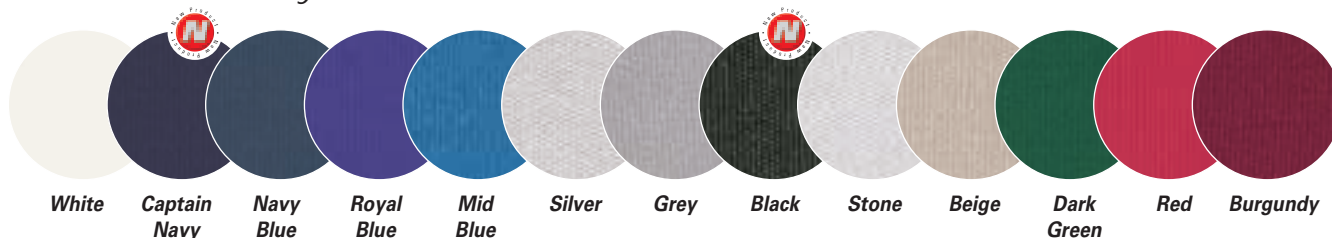

Solacryl is a high quality range of 100% acrylic fabrics manufactured exclusively for Bainbridge International. Designed primarily for use in marine covers, Solacryl is woven and finished to an exacting specification based on our 25 years experience of supplying fabric to covermakers.

Four styles of Solacryl are available, each specifically designed for different marine applications.

Why Use Solacryl Marine Acrylic?

- ▲ Woven construction provides a traditional, quality appearance.
- ▲ Solution dyed for rich non fade colours and reduced 'crazing' or 'marbling'.
- ▲ Acrylic yarns give excellent UV stability especially compared with polyester products.
- ▲ Weather resistant to extremes of temperature. Unlike PVC it will not sweat, stick or crack.
- ▲ Rot proof.
- ▲ Fungi, bacteria and insect resistant.
- ▲ Oil and grease resistant.
- ▲ Wide choice of attractive colours.
- ▲ Easy to clean.

Caring For a Solacryl Cover

Solacryl marine acrylics have been specifically designed for use in marine covers and awnings and will provide many years of service and protection to your boat. Following these simple guidelines will prolong their appearance.

- ▲ Clean regularly to prevent dirt becoming embedded in the fabric.
- ▲ Loose dirt can simply be brushed off.
- ▲ For more intensive cleaning hose down and clean with warm water and a natural soap solution. Rinse thoroughly.
- ▲ Covers should be clean and dry before winter storage.

Solacryl 200

This ultra-light style is intended for use by sailmakers as sacrificial UV strips on furling genoas. However, it is also used for upholstery, cushion covers, sun awnings, bags and very light covers.

Part No	Description	Weight: gsm / oz/yd ²		Width: mm/in		Roll Length: m/yds		Colour
F81500100	Ultra light acrylic	195	5.8	1400	55	60	65	White
F81500220	Ultra light acrylic	195	5.8	1400	55	60	65	Royal Blue

Solacryl Uncoated

Solacryl Uncoated is ideal for applications such as sail, winch and binnacle covers where leakage from puddling is unlikely but trapped damp could cause mildew and corrosion. It is also ideal for wooden boats and boats that are self draining where a damp atmosphere will cause damage yet water in the boat will drain or evaporate quickly.

Solacryl Coated

Solacryl Coated features a heavier acrylic coating to increase the hydrostatic head to over 1000mm. This coating does not affect the appearance or feel of the fabric, making for a cover that is almost 100% waterproof, yet retains the appearance and quality of a traditional cover.

Solacryl Coated is the most popular style in the range as it is ideal for most marine applications including sprayhoods, biminis and cockpit covers.
